LEAVES BABY AT HOSPITAL, FLEES

'Miss X'

Calm orderliness of Somerville Hospital was broken today when a man dashed in, placed a 3-pound, 2-ounce girl in the arms of the superintendent and dashed away with the words, "Quick, take this baby —it's just been born!" Youngster is healthy, has brown hair, will live. Nurse Mildred Taylor is in charge, while police hunt man and baby's mother.

JAPS SHOOT DOWN MORE RED FLIERS

By JAMES R. YOUNG

International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, June 24—Charges that Soviet garrisons in Outer Mongolia have been greatly reinforced were made today by Japanese military authorities who reported that 12 additional Russian planes have been shot down, bringing to 120 the total put out of action since June 1.

Reports from field headquarters of the Japanese army in Hsinking stated the Soviet air forces have "considerably improved."

New and reinforced bases were said to have been created by the Soviets at Alangator, Sambiz and Tamsk.

Despite the war-time proportions of Russo-Japanese air combat as reported in Nipponese dispatches, the situation did not seem to have precipitated a serious crisis.

Sixty Soviet planes crossed the Manchukuoan frontier from Outer Mongolia this morning, Japanese advices said, and 12 were brought down by Japanese planes which rose to meet the raid.

Four Japanese planes admittedly were lost in a combat Thursday. One Nipponese aviator was forced down behind his own lines when his fuel gave out, but saved his ship.

(Domei, Japanese official news agency, reported 59 Soviet planes were shot down "at the end of May," but it was not clear whether these were in addition to those already accounted for.)

Forty-nine Soviet planes, according to the high command of the Kwantung army—the Japanese branch on the mainland—were shot down Thursday in one of the biggest air battles the Far East has ever seen.

Manchukuo's government at Hsinking has protested against the alleged raids from Outer Mongolia, which has a Soviet type of government, and whose army is supplied and trained by Russian experts.

(All knowledge of Manchukuo border fights was denied in Moscow. In spite of the reported magnitude of the land and air battles, the protests of Japanese-controlled Manchukuo have resulted in no crisis affecting Moscow or Tokyo.)

Strength of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis again was affirmed by Italy today when, according to a telegram from Peiping, Rear Admiral Gonzaga, commander-in-chief of the Italian fleet in the Far East, called on Japanese General Suglyama and pledged Italy's "full cooperation with the Japanese military authorities in North China."

2 More Britons Stripped, One Slapped by Japs

TIENTSIN, June 24 (INS)—Two British subjects suffered the indignity of undressing in the presence of foreign women to be searched by Japanese sentries at the Concession barricade.

One, Cecil Davis, honorary agent of the New Zealand government, was slapped in the face three times with his passport for saying "thanks" when ordered to strip.

The other involved in the incident, the ninth such occurrence since enforcement of the Japanese blockade of the foreign concessions, was John Whitewright.

Hitler to Fail--Kaiser

'Can't Be a World Empire'

LONDON, June 24 (INS)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm, last of the Hohenzollern emperors who dreamed of a Germany supreme throughout the world, believes that any attempt at world domination by Adolf Hitler is foredoomed to failure.

The views of the rarely-quoted imperial exile on the reputed aims and ambitions of his successor as head of the Reich were brought to London today by an English minister, the Rev. E. J. T. Bagnall, who interviewed the former kaiser at Doorn, Holland.

These were the words of the 80-year-old ex-emperor who, from his chateau in the Netherlands, has surveyed for almost two decades the fast-moving panorama of events in Europe:

"Providence never intended that there should be a world empire.

"All attempts in history to achieve world domination have failed."

Jap-British Tension Grows

TIENTSIN, June 24 (AP)—Tension between Japanese and British communities in Tientsin mounted today with a general tightening of the restrictions by which Japanese have isolated the British and French concessions.

Japanese officers declared "temporary martial law" in the Japanese concession, adjoining the French concession, and cleared Asahi road, its main artery, of all traffic. The move apparently was made because of the arrival of some high Japanese official.

Earlier Japanese gendarmes had forced traffic in the area just outside the concessions to a virtual

Denies Guilt In 'College Bridal Pact'

Theodore E. Ehouse, 29-year-old Waltham medical student, pleaded not guilty in Waltham district court today to charges of larceny by false pretenses—charges pressed by Mrs. Antoinette Jenney, Cleveland widow who claimed she financed his education so he would marry her daughter.

Ehouse, a student at Middlesex University, went back to jail after brief conference before Judge Frederic A. Crafts unable to raise $5000 bail set for his appearance next Tuesday.

Mrs. Jenney and her attractive daughter, Helen, 22—the girl whom it is charged Ehouse promised but failed to marry—sat in the courtroom for two hours only to hear the case again postponed.

Mrs. Jenney, who came from Cleveland to bring the charge, told authorities she had spent most of her late husband's $5000 insurance money to educate Ehouse, in the belief he would marry her daughter.

She specifically charges him with larceny of $300. She said she advanced him $750 tuition fee, to later discover the amount he indicated necessary was $300 more than the actual tuition.

According to police, Ehouse denied he ever intended to marry Helen, or that he had promised to do so.

SOLONS FLYING SEA TO BRITAIN

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., June 24 (INS)—Carrying government officials and congressmen, the giant Yankee Clipper took off for England at 9:27 a. m. (E. D. T.) today.

Departure of the huge plane, which headed up the New England coast, was delayed for nearly an hour as the 21 "observers" who are making the trip were late arriving. Commanding the crew of 11 men was Captain Harold E. Gray, veteran of trans-ocean air flights.

Four members of Congress—Senators Ernest Lundeen (F.-L.) of Minnesota and Dennis Chavez (D.) of New Mexico, and Reps. Carl E. Mapes (R.) of Michigan and Clarence Cannon (D.) of Missouri—were among the passengers to make the first official flight over the northern route, via Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Ireland.

Other government officials on board were General G. C. Emmons, commandant at Langley Field, Va.; Edward P. Warner, member of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, and Clinton M. Hester, CAA administrator.

LISBON, Portugal, June 24 (AP)—The Atlantic Clipper, en route back to New York after a press preview flight to Europe, took off today at 4 a. m. (EST) for Horta, the Azores, after a delay of 24 hours because of bad weather and a rough sea there.

Bandits Beat Couple in Auto

Three men, masked and armed with revolvers, beat Robert Cook, 32, and Miss Helen ones, 26, early today while the couple was in a parked car in Lynn woods.

Both were treated at Lynn hospital for cuts about the head and face.

Cook saw the trio approaching his car and hid a wallet containing $14. When he declined to disclose where he hid it, the men punched him and his companion, he told police.

GIRL, 4, LOYAL 'MOTHER' TO 3 IN GRIM LIFE DRAMA

Mummy had been away for days and days.

So, when daddy went out, he told four-year-old Helen:

"You play mother until I come back."

And Helen did the best she could, although there wasn't much to eat in the bare little Madden flat in Canterbury street, Dorchester.

Joan, three-going-on-four, was brave about it, too, being nearly as "grown-up" as Big Sister Helen.

TWO OTHER BABIES

Between them, Helen and Joan managed to fix up some supper for themselves and for Little Sister, Loretta, only 18 months old.

The baby, William, nine months old, needed merely to have his milk bottle filled.

It was lonesome, when night came, but daddy had locked the door before leaving, so Helen and Joan knew there was nothing really to be afraid of.

Helen put the three younger children to bed, finally. She herself couldn't sleep, omehow.

THEN STRANGER COMES

"Playing mother" wan't as much fun as she had thought it would be.

So the long hours passed. And still daddy didn't come home. Helen listened and listened for his step on the stairs.

There were steps, at last, but they weren't daddy's steps. A strange voice told Helen to open the door. But, of course, she wouldn't.

The rest of the story was written today on the police blotter at Mattapan station.

On complaint of neighbors of the Madden family, Agent Robert True of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children went to the Madden home with a police officer.

FAITHFUL LITTLE MOTHER

They broke the door down, and found Joan, Loretta and William safely asleep in the one bed, with "make-believe mother" Helen keeping faithful vigil.

Helen tried to tell them everything was all right, Daddy would be home "before long."

man, with the help of neighbor womenfolk, dressed the four little Maddens and took them to the Chardon Street Home.

FATHER IS ARRESTED

That was early today. Hours later, the father, William Madden, went to West Roxbury courthouse to learn what disposition had been made of the children.

He was promptly arrested on a charge of neglect and was held in $500, personal recognizance, for a hearing July 7.

He said his wife, Helen, 24, had been missing since Monday.

TINY MISS OF SOMERVILLE HOSPITAL
"Take This Baby," Man Yells, Flees

Leaves New Baby At Hospital, Flees

"Quick, take this baby—it's just been born!"

Instinctively, Superintendent Harriet Gardner of the Somerville Hospital stretched out her arms, and into them dropped a tiny, lustily-wailing bit of humanity, clad only in a pink blanket.

But before the startled nurse could make a single inquiry the excited man, who had raced in breathlessly, vanished just as fast through the front entrance—leaving doctors and police with an amazing baby mystery.

The infant, born prematurely and weighing only three pounds, two ounces, was rushed into the nursery where prompt ministrations saved its life.

In no time at all, it was discovered that the baby, a little brown-haired girl, despite everything, was in good health.

Doctors say—barring unforeseen complications—she's going to live, so the temporary name of "Mademoiselle X" was adopted by her volunteer mothers on the hospital's nursing staff.

All that's wanted now is one mother and one father—the latter, presumably, the young and well-dressed stranger who made the hospital dash in a taxicab variously described as both "red" and "white."

"The little girl is seemingly in excellent health, Superintendent Gardner said this morning.

"She's pretty tiny and perhaps will need some special care but there is every indication that she will come along fine."

Miss Gardner did not give the man a further thought at the moment she sped to the nursery. The baby had been born less than an hour and needed immediate care.

POLICE WITHOUT CLUE

As so often happens, she thought the mother had been overtaken by the stork en route to the hospital.

But there was no mother . . .

Instead, all anyone reported seeing was the tail light of the stranger's departing vehicle. Police later were told that it appeared to be either a "red" or a "white" taxi, while still another witness seemed to think it was a private automobile.

So that is all Somerville police had to work on today as they began a check on every taxicab in the city. A preliminary search offered no aid in identifying the fast-moving stranger.

Nurses and police waited for hours for some news from the parents, believing the man had raced off to make arrangements for the mother.

But as the hours ticked off and no one even called to learn of the crying infant's condition, they knew they had a real mystery on their hands.

"It's a mighty pretty little baby," was the opinion of nurse after nurse who tip-toed in for a peek at the tot.

WOMAN TELLS OF MAD RIDE WITH HITCH-HIKING SLAYER

LANSING, Mich., June 24 (INS)—Every available law enforcement officer in central and southwestern Michigan today was ordered into the hunt for the scar-faced hitch-hike killer who slew George C. Hall, Detroit oil promoter.

State police, sheriff's deputies and local police forces, heavily armed and with orders to "shoot to kill" patrolled every highway over which the murderer might seek escape.

The scar-faced man was described by Ruby Colby, 30, Hall's companion, as being well dressed, about 30 years old, five feet eight inches tall, weighing 160 pounds, with dark hair and a two-inch scar on his left cheek.

TELLS OF DEATH RIDE

Hall's body was discovered hours after Miss Colby reported the killing to Grand Rapids police. She told police the killer had unceremoniously dumped the oilman's body into a clump of bushes on a dirt road near Laingsburg.

After quizzing her Captain Ira H. Marmon of the state police said:

"We have only the description given by the woman to work on, but all suspicious Persons found on the highways will be questioned. Miss Colby's story has checked in every detail we have investigated."

Prosecutor Charles W. Austin said he will recommend a John Doe warrant today to establish jurisdiction.

Miss Colby told this story of picking up the hitch-hiker and the subsequent death ride:

"The hiker seemed well-mannered and about 30. He said he was going to St. Johns. He and Mr. Hall talked about the oil business and he must have come to the conclusion Mr. Hall was wealthy.

KILLER TAKES WHEEL

"I was driving. Mr. Hall sat in the front with me and the other man sat in the back. Suddenly I heard a sharp explosion and thought we had a blowout. I pulled to the side of the road. The man said, 'Keep going.' Mr. Hall gasped, 'Why did you shoot me? I would have done what you wanted.'

"I was too frightened to continue driving. I told the man I couldn't go on.

"He climbed over the back of the seat and took the wheel. He drove like mad. It seemed hours. I held Mr. Hall in my arms and he died in about 20 minutes.

"During that time I pleaded and begged the man to get a doctor. He told me to shut up and poked a gun in my ribs.

"Two hours after the shooting he found a deserted place, stopped the car and pulled out the body. He took $10 from Mr. Hall's wallet, his watch and ring.

"He took $2.50 from my purse. I asked him if I could put a blanket over the body. He allowed me to."

Hint Plot in Food Poisoning of 300

NEW YORK, June 24 (INS)—City chemists today began tests to determine source of contamination in free WPA lunches which left between 300 and 350 Staten Island school children and several adults ill yesterday.

Of those stricken, about 95 remained in hospitals overnight because of severe pains. The remainder were treated at hospitals or their homes.

District Attorney Frank H. Innes said he was "trying to determine whether a crime is involved in this wholesale poison case."

Those who will be questioned by Board of Health officials include three persons who prepared Spanish rice, three sandwich makers, six egg mixers, and 18 sandwich packers, drivers and delivery men.

The victims were stricken a few hours after eating the free public school lunches prepared in a WPA kitchen in Public School 32 in Stapleton, Staten Island, and delivered by truck to all the 41 elementary schools in the island. The adults were made ill by sandwiches taken home by the children.

The luncheon consisted of Spanish rice, eggs and celery sandwiches on whole wheat bread and stewed fruit.

Minor panic ensued on the island when frightened parents began summoning ambulances and physicians for their children. Four hospitals were quickly filled and the overflow was temporarily quartered in a tuberculosis hospital.

Baby and Pin in Life Race, Dracut to Hub

Behind the screaming sirens of a police escort, one-year-old Raymond Veillancourt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Veillancourt, of Dracut, was raced over the road to Massachusetts General Hospital today, after swallowing a pin.

A Dracut physician ordered the trip, after preliminary efforts to remove the obstruction were unavailing. In each town and city along the route, motorcycle policemen escorted the cortege through heavy traffic.

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Young Evalyn Washington McLean, who balked at a debut, still refuses to let a party be given for her.

So Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, her mother and one of the country's best-known party givers, invited the younger set in on her own, with dinner and dancing for about 200 at "Friendship," the McLean estate.

"I'm doing it so I can see the youngsters," explained Mrs. McLean, owner of the famous 44½-carat Hope diamond.

"Evalyn wouldn't let me have it in her honor. I even promised she wouldn't have to receive with me."

The tall, blonde granddaughter of Colorado's gold king, the late Tom Walsh, decided to mingle with the gay crowd, however, along with one of her brothers, John R. "Jock" McLean, 23, and his wife.

Tobin Veto Dooms Teachers' College

Eventual discontinuation of Boston Teachers' College seemed certain today following veto by Mayor Tobin of the entire school budget.

The mayor notified the committee in his veto message that he would consent to provide funds to carry the college this year, if the members, in turn, will agree to admit no entering class next fall and close the school in 1942.

His veto action was seen as a wedge to force the committee to respect his economy wishes. In explaining his reasons, the mayor said:

"If your Honorable Body will give further consideration to the budget and eliminate therefrom the appropriation allocated in the Teachers College in the amount of $137,648.86, my approval of the appropriation item in the budget for "salaries of principals, teachers and members of the supervising staff' will be forthcoming.

"The state at the present time maintains nine teachers colleges and normal schools. The citizens of Boston contribute 23.7 per cent of the cost of maintenance of these institutions. Boston is the only city in the Commonwealth which has ever attempted to maintain a teachers college at its own expense.

"I strongly believe that the training of teachers, if conducted at public expense is a function of the state government and should not be borne by the taxpayers of Boston."

Chinese 'Ghost' Walks; Salvages $800 From Fire

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Patrolman George Morris doesn't believe in ghosts.

But his nerves tingled early today as he stood outside the blackened ruins of the tenement at 17 Doyers street, Chinatown, where seven persons perished in a fire yesterday.

Something unmistakably eerie sounded from within. Morris listened intently. After a while he saw a little old Chinese man detach himself from the shadows. He came out with hands and face blackened. His clothes were daubed with black. Under his arm was a can.

Charlie Fung, an interpreter said, was one of those who had escaped with his life. He had two cans, one with $800, the other with $1000, buried under a pile of coal in his top floor back room. I was all he had saved in 43 years of selling newspapers in Chinatown. He wanted the money. He had crept into the building last night, risking his life, but had found only the $800 can.

Probe of 'Doll Girl' Slaying Still Drags

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., June 24—What has happened to justice in the Joan Stevens case? Nineteen days have passed since the 14-year-old "doll girl" was killed by a stream of eight bullets from the automatic pistol of Corporal Benjamin Franklin, of the state motor police.

Day by day, incredible facts have been unearthed about the case and about Pennsylvania's peekaboo style of investigating and prosecuting it.

Yet 19 days later the state authorities have taken no visible action to bring the whole tragic event into the light of day and fix responsibility for an "incident" that has spread into a nation-wide scandal.

FACTS EXPOSED IN CASE

Here are some aspects of the case which have been exposed in the Hearst newspapers:

1—Though they were in the crowd attracted to the funeral rooms where their daughter's body lay behind locked doors, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens weren't told it was Joan who had been slain until the next day, when friends informed them.

2—Corporal Franklin and Private Ed. Switaj who were in the car in which the girl was killed testified she pointed an automatic pistol at the corporal, although the "gun" now in possession of District Attorney Albert H. Heimbach is a 25-cent toy cap pistol.

3—In the record of the coroner's inquest there is not one word explaining that the "gun" is a harmless plaything.

4—County Judge William G. Thomas, who admitted the killer to bail at a hearing in chambers, has said since that he believed the gun alleged to have been aimed by the girl was a deadly weapon; that neither the district attorney nor Major William A. Clark, regional commander of the state police, both of whom were present at the bail hearing, told him differently.

MYSTERY CALLERS

According to the Stevens family, two men in plainclothes whom they suspect of being state policemen questioned them at their home the morning after the killing. They represented themselves as "from the district attorney's office" and told the Stevenses they didn't know who shot Joan.

At the time of the shooting the district attorney's office had one detective who visited the family after the two mysterious investigators had departed.

Crooks Slash Hingham Man

James LaHood, Hingham restaurant proprietor, was severely slashed and beaten by a gang of five men who broke into his establishment, ransacked the place and looted the cash register today.

He was awakened by the sounds of the gang after they had entered through a side window. When he shouted at the intruders, two of them leaped at him, striking him many times and slashing him about the head and throat with a knife.

The gang fled from the lunch room and drove away in an awaiting auto. LaHood noted the registration number, which was broadcast to Greater Boston police.

A few minutes later, Weymouth officers in a police cruiser sighted the holdup car on the Nantasket highway and pursued it two miles toward Boston, but were outdistanced.

Mother Steals Bike for Child

Two breaks, one by a woman who explained she "just wanted a tricycle for my little girl," were being investigated by Quincy police today.

In one of them, a woman seen leaving the scene of the robbery, a bicycle repair shop on Copeland st., West Quincy, told Patrolman Michael Connolly she had broken into the shop and taken the tricycle for her child.

She was held for examination by a psychiatrist.

The other robbery occured in a garage on Hancock st., West Quincy. Here thieves entered through a rear window, taking a small amount of money from the cash drawer.

500 MILLION U. S. LOAN STIRS FIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Critics of President Roosevelt's new $3,860,000,000 lending program centered their opposition today on a provision calling for $500,000,000 in loans to foreign countries.

While several predicted the entire program might encounter hard sledding in Congress, a good many more expressed the opinion that the foreign loans would be rejected.

On the other hand Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, had this to say after a White House conference late yesterday at which Congressional Democratic chieftains agreed to seek immediate action:

"Most of the program and probably all of it will go through without much difficulty. Some of it will cause debate, but the general feeling is the whole thing will receive the approval of Congress."

DEFAULTERS BARRED

As to the proposed loans to foreign countries, it is assumed that they would go largely to Latin American nations because the Johnson Act forbidding advances to war debt defaulters bars credit to most European powers.

Saying that "the President's program is supposed to be self-liquidating," Senator Taft (R.) of Ohio, asserted that "there is nothing self-liquidating about a foreign loan."

The lending program provides that proceeds from the loans would be spent in this country, but Senator Adams (D.) of Colorado told reporters that "we ought to know by now that we can't buy business."

Senator Byrnes (D.) of South Carolina, to whom Mr. Roosevelt transmitted the lending proposals, asserted that he would be "very loath to vote for any foreign loans."

From Senator Austin (R.) of Vermont came a statement that "the American banks are full of money to loan, and if foreign loans are good they probably can get the business."

Democratic leaders in House and Senate began drafting an omnibus measure for introduction early next week.

History Backs N. E. Wage Plea

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Back of New England's support for a 32½ cent an hour minimum wage for the textile industry is a desperate plea by manufacturers and labor for preservation of communities which were virtually unrivaled a few years go for their production of cotton goods.

Supporting the flat minimum wage for the industry and opposing southern demands for a wage differential, New Englanders told the history of an industry they founded in Rhode Island in 1790, which between 1923 and 1937 has placed at least 132,010 workers among the unemployed.

Mills that have silenced their machinery taking away the livelihood of an estimated 500,000 persons, temporarily at least, blamed their predicament largely upon low-wage competition from the south.

Garner Asks Cut In Tax Exemption

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Vice-President Garner is suggesting that Congress make drastic reductions in income tax exemptions at the next session, it was reported reliably today.

Garner contends, it was said, that the present $2500 exemption for married couples should be slashed to $1200 and that the $1000 exemption for single persons shouldbe reauced to $500.

In most cases, this would increase the existing tax on married couples with income above $2500 by $52 a year and the tax on single individuals with income above $1000 by $20 a year.

The proposal wou'd bring more than 2,000,000 "little fellows" under the federal income tax structure.

PEACEMAKER SHOT IN TUSSLE FOR GUN

Michael Sullivan, 40, of Saratoga street, East Boston, was shot through the stomach today as he battled a man who had fired at the proprietor of a restaurant in Day square.

Police charged that the assailant became enraged and whipped out a gun when the proprietor, Harry Chakos, refused to serve him a drink.

A man who gave the name of Frank Dedalonus, 23, of Porter street, East Boston, was being held in connection with the attack.

Fifty patrons dashed for windows and doors as Chakos was fired at, police said. The cafe proprietor ducked behind a bar and ran to the telephone to call police.

At the same time, Sullivan sprang from a table and struggled for the gun. Another shot rang out, Sullivan slumped to the floor. Several customers grappled with the youth and disarmed him, police charge.

Friends rushed Sullivan to Strong Hospital in East Boston, where he was given first aid treatment then sent to City Hospital. Sergeant Joseph B Fallon of the headquarters homicide squad questioned him there and later Dedalonus was taken to face the wounded man.

Hospital officials said the bullet passed directly through Sullivan's stomach. He is said to have a fair chance for recovery. His wife, Catherine, and daughter were taken to the hospital by police to visit him.

Mattson Killer In Posse's Trap

HAYWARD, Wis. June 24 (INS)—More than 200 armed deputy sheriffs and possemen today closed in on the small swampland surrounding the small cabin hideout where Ray "Tarzan" Olson, killer of two deputy sheriffs, was believed trapped.

The gunman believed to be Olson fled to the hideout after a surprise encounter and exchange of shots with a posse of four armed men scouring the backwoods wilderness for the killer.

Olson, believed by authorities here to be the kidnap-murderer of Charles Mattson, was sighted by Deputy Sheriff Jim Berard and his men as Olson loped across a bridge near Moose Lake, 22 miles east of here.

The possemen opened fire and Olson returned several shots.

Backing into the woods as he fired, Olson disappeared in heavy timber and was believed to have taken refuge in the swampland.

Additional possemen from Hayward, numbering more than 200 in all, were rushing to join Deputy Sheriff Berard's party in search of the fugitive.

YD in Stormy Election Session

HARTFORD, Ct., June 24—With "regulars" and "insurgents" both claiming victory in the fight for offices in the YD Veterans Association, the election session at the national convention here today promised to turn into one of the stormiest in the history of the organization.

Catcalls, hoots and howls resounded through the convention during a preliminary meeting to make nominations. Jerry O'Leary of Providence is the "regular" choice of the convention leaders, and Edwin J. Noyes of Worcester carries the "insurgent" standard.

KING ZOG TO VISIT N. Y.

NEW YORK, June 24 (INS)—Exiled King Zog of Albania, the tiny mountainous nation recently annexed by Italy, plans a visit here with his American Hungarian Queen Geraldine and their baby son, Crown Prince Skander. They are expected to arrive within a few weeks from their temporary refuge in Greece.

Drum Corps Contest Is VFW Feature

HOLYOKE, June 24—Crowds jammed this city today to watch drum corps competitions and a giant parade, featuring the third and busiest day of the annual Massachusetts convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Special police details prepared for at least 100,000 spectators at the military parade, scheduled for 5 p. m.

During the morning and afternoon, drill teams, bands and drum corps planned elaborate exhibitions. Convention business sessions were also scheduled for forenoon and again at 4 p. m.

Fun will be added to the festivities by a "cootie parade" tonight, with State Commander Newell P. Warner of Marlborough special guest of the Cooties.

Church services for the visting veterans wil be held at all churches in the city tomorrow. The Rev. Edwin A. Schearer, C. S. S. R., national patriotic instructor and past national patriotic instructor and past national chaplain, will deliver a sermon and say mass at 9:30 a. m. in St. Jerome Church.

The annual election of officers will be held tomorrow afternoon, followed by closing exercises.

Alma's 'Love Lure' Etting Trial Issue

LOS ANGELES, June 24 (AP)—An attempt to prove that Myrl Alderman, the husky pianist who is torch singer Ruth Etting's second husband, had married blond Alma Alderman because of "some fascination he could not resist" awaited a judge's ruling today.

Miss Etting is defendant in Mrs. Alderman's $150,000 damage suit charging alienation of the accompanist's affections. She has not yet been present in court, but another of Alderman's wives appeared yesterday.

She is brunette Helen Alderman Warne, who testified she met Alderman in Kansas City in 1924, married him in 1925, divorced him in 1927, remarried him the same year, came to Hollywood with him in 1929, separated from him in 1934 and divorced him for the second time in 1935.

Miss Etting's attorney, Bernard Cohen, asked Mrs. Warne if Alderman, before their divorce, had ever discussed Alma. When she replied in the affirmative, S. S. Hahn, Mrs. Alderman's counsel, entered an objection to the questioning.

"Your honor," Cohen declared, "I hope to prove that Myrl Alderman told Helen to get a divorce; that he was not in love with Alma, but that he was going to marry her because something drew him to her, some fascination he could not resist. I hope to prove that he had no sincere love for Alma, but that physical satisfaction was what drew him to her."

Judge Samuel R. Blake promised a ruling Monday.

Babe in the Woods

'Office Wife' Still Attracted to Beck

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Flushing with embarrassment, Mrs. Lillian T. Schrein, 37-year-old niece by marriage of Martin Beck, insisted under cross-examination that she still was attracted to the theatrical producer, from whom she is accused of stealing $60,000.

"He is physically attractive to me," she said, nervously twisting a handkerchief. "But don't disconnect that from the mental part, which meant a great deal."

Beck has testified in her trial on grand larceny and forgery charges that Mrs. Schrein, secretary of the Martin Beck Theater Corporation, was at no time authorized by him to sign his name to the checks which constitute the chief basis for her prosecution. She admitted she had no written authority from him.

Mrs. Schrein, under the questioning of Assistant District Attorney Herman McCarthy, said she began her intimate relations with Beck, now 71 years old, in 1930. They lasted until 1937, but in that time her interest in her husband did not pass, she said.

McCarthy pressed the defendant-witness for an explanation of her feelings and her conduct during the period of her secret meetings with Beck and was permitted to continue this line of interrogation even after Irving Mendelson, counsel for Mrs. Schrein, objected that it was not material.

Mrs. Schrein testified she received many presents from Beck after she entered his employ, and shortly after their illicit romance began he told her, she said:

"I don't want to hand you anything. I want you to know that anything I have is yours.

"If Mr. Beck had been a poor man, would you have been intimate with him?" demanded McCarthy.

"Yes," Mrs. Schrein replied. "I liked him then and I like him now."

O'Brien Appeals 3-5 Years Term

Former Mayor James M. O'Brien of Revere, sentenced to three to five years on a charge of embezzlement, remained in seclusion with his family today, refusing all comment, while his counsel prepared an appeal to the Supreme Judicial Court.

"I have nothing whatever to say," the former mayor declared.

The State Prison sentence was handed down by Judge Lewis H. Goldberg in Suffolk Superior Court in connection with an alleged $13,277.04 embezzlement from the city during O'Brien's regime as city treasurer.

Until the exceptions are heard by the high court, not for several weeks and perhaps months, O'Brien will be free in $500 personal recognizance.

Just before the sentence, O'Brien's counsel had argued that the ends of justice would be met "by filing the case."

Asst. Atty. Gen. John S. Derham told the court in final arguments:

"I realize that O'Brien has a host of friends. The court was fair in its charge to the jury and the jury has found him guilty. I have utmost confidence in the disposition of the case."

Endurance Fliers Get Cough Syrup

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 24 (AP) — The endurance fliers' ground crew today sein cough medicine to Hunter Moody and Wilbur Parriah, who passed their 67th hour of continuous flying at h: 04 a. m. (CST).

Moody explained over the plane's short-wave radio that his partner had become hoarse, but did not have a cold.

The fliers are attempting to break the world record of 218 hours for sustained flight in a small plane.

CALLAHAN OUSTER MOVE SET JULY 10

Ouster proceedings against State Commissioner of Public Works William F. Callahan, which were to have started Monday, are now scheduled for July 10, Governor Saltonstall announced today.

Callahan asked for the postponement himself. He has yet to disclose the identity of his attorney.

The hearings are to be before the governor, with the special committee which has been probing the department presenting the evidence.

Charles B. Rugg will represent the commission, Attorney Raymond S. Wilkins, the governor's counsel, will advise Mr. Saltonstall.

The 30,000 word report on which charges are based alleges that Callahan squandered "millions of dollars in public funds in hurricane relief."

Saltonstall today declined comment on the statement of Athur Haskins of the executive council, Republican, that he has investigated some of the charges and discovered them to be unfounded.

The governor said Haskins was entitled to make any comment he desired.

Caesarean Birth For Triplet Boys

ALBION, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Triplets were born in a rare Caesarean operation to save the life of Mrs. Lloyd Jones of Lyndonville, N. Y., in Allen Gregory Memorial Hospital.

The operation, described by a Rochester physician to be as rare "as probably one in half a million," was performed by Dr. William D. Johnson of Batavia, N. Y. The triplets, all boys ranging in weight from three pounds and four ounces to four pounds and two ounces, were placed in an incubator.

Duke Toasted By 'Windsorites'

LONDON, June 24 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth reaped the reward of returned travelers today—the quiet and seclusion of their own fireside.

While the King and Queen rested at Windsor Castle with their daughters, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, "Windsorites" toasted "their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Windsor" and urged their former monarch and the American-born woman for whom he renounced his throne return to England.

The society of "Octavians" — named for former King Edward VIII—commemorated the Duke's 45th birthday last night with a dinner and dance to "give expression to our intense desire to see him back in this country among his own people."

Japs Confiscate U. S. Oil Property in China

TIENTSIN, June 24 (INS)—Japanese authorities today delivered one of their most direct blows at American interests when officials of the JaJapanese-operated North China railroad at Peiping ordered veritable confiscation of United States oil properties along the line.

Railroad officials warned the Standard Oil Company and the British Asiatic Petroleum Company to relinquish their tanks and offices at Kalgan, capital of Japanese-dominated Chahar province, Shihchiachwang and other points on the rail route.

Six weeks were allowed by the Japanese for the transfer. The Japanese said the requisition was essential for enlargement of railroad yards, but American and British spokesmen said it would result in crippling their oil business.

In Tientsin the blockade situation remained unchanged, with food still scarce, and with the British continuing their protestations in vain.

Tension was relieved in South China, however, when Japanese naval officers at Swatow agreed to the right of British and other foreign ships to enter Swatow harbor.

Ningpo Port Closed by Japs

SHANGHAI, June 24 (AP)—Japanese virtually closed the important port of Ningpo today in their drive to wrest from Chinese the few remaining coast cities which have been gateways for armaments.

Quickly following up their occupation Wednesday of Swatow, on the south China coast, Japanese naval officers announced an operation shutting off the maritime approach to Ningpo, 120 miles south of Shanghai.

Ningpo and Foochow, in Chekiang and Fukien provinces respectively, are the only major ports remaining in Chinese hands.

Japanese bluejackets, the naval announcement said, landed on Chusan Island, which dominates the entrance to Ningpo. Tinghai, Chusan's port, was said to have been taken over last night.

Japs Take Chushin, Tighten Blockade

TOKYO, June 24 (INS)—Japanese blockade of the China coast was further tightened today with capture of the Chushin Islands in Hangchow Bay according to field headquarters dispatches reaching here.

The reports said Japanese marines landed successfully under cover of warships and air units at dawn Friday and occupied the most important of the island group.

RUSSIA WINNING BRITAIN

LONDON, June 24 (INS) — Immovable in the full knowledge of her supreme position as the balancing power in Europe, Russia today won a major point in her diplomatic struggle with Britain and France over the proposed triple entente.

France, it was learned, has advised Britain that France is prepared to give automatic guarantees of security and independence to the Baltic states, as demanded by the Soviets.

And Great Britain, in view of the Far Eastern situation and foreboding rumors that Germany is preparing another blow, is considering yielding.

Move to Revise Neutrality Bill

WASHINGTON, June 24 (INS)—Administration leaders in neutrality legislation, confronted by a threatening revolt among House Democrats, today considered revision of the Bloom bill in an effort to insure its passage next week.

Striking from the measure all expansion of the discretionary power of the President—which foes of the measure contend might involve the nation in war—became the goal of one group.

Another group demanded retention of the mandatory arms embargo provisions of the present neutrality act, under which shipment of arms and munitions to warring nations is prohibited.

15 Bombing Planes Ordered to Hawaii

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 24 (INS) Flight conditions permitting, 15 of Uncle Sam's big navy patrol bombing planes will take off from San Diego Bay for Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, next Wednesday, naval authorities announced today.

Carrying 150 officers and men, under leadership of Commander Sam La Hache, the planes are expected to make the 2570 mile hop in 19 hours.

Auto Hits Hydrant, Crashes Window

An auto, which police said was driver by William Holland, 29, of Topcliffe street, Dorchester, went out of control today, broke a hydrant, then crashed into a window of Hayden Boys' Center, Dorchester avenue.

The broken hydrant caused a geyser of water, which flooded the street until shut off by a repair crew. Holland escaped injury.

British Wait Japs' Reply to Warning Note

LONDON, June 24 (AP)—Great Britain looked impatiently to Japan today for reply to Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax' strong warning that indignities to Britons in North China must cease or bring retaliation.

Informed sources predicted that if Japan's answer does not appear by early next week pressure in the House of Commons and the newspapers may force some sort of retaliation.

Lord Halifax gave his warning to Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu yesterday in what some sources described as the bluntest diplomatic language in years.

Lack of any statement of Japanese grievances, although the blockade of the British concession at Tientsin is in its 11th day, has offended the British sense of diplomatic propriety.

Seek to Identify Man Who Fell Dead

A 55-year-old man, whose identity police are seeking, collapsed and died in a drugstore in Harrison avenue, one block from City Hospital, today.

Apparently taken suddenly ill, he staggered into the store and asked for a glass of water, then died. He was five feet, 10 inches in height, weighed 150 pounds, had gray hair and brown eyes and wore a black coat, red sport shirt and brown trousers.

NAZI PROPAGANDA BANNED IN FRANCE

PARIS, June 24 (AP)—President Lebrun today signed a decree striking at German propaganda in France's border provinces with a ban on the distribution of tracts from abroad.

Police recently have made a number of arrests in connection with distribution of French language pamphlets printed in Germany which were scattered throughout Alsace-Lorraine and the northern departments of France.

The decree was one of several submitted by Premier Daladier and signed by the President as the Cabinet was summoned for an exhaustive review of the world situation, including yesterday's conclusion of a French-Turkish mutual aid accord.

One of the new decrees provided for building a submarine to replace the Phenix, which sank with 71 officers and men off French Indo-China June 15.

Many pamphlets seized in frontier regions were put out by French extremist organizations and consisted mainly of bitter criticism of the Paris government and arguments in defense of Nazi foreign policy.

Police Chief Slays Ex-Wife, Shoots Self

FLINT, Mich., June 24 (AP)—A domestic quarrel today had brought death to a woman and bullet wounds which may prove fatal to her police chief former husband, Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott reported.

The dead woman was Mrs. Irene Wright, 30, shot in the home of a sister in Clio, north of here. Sheriff Wolcott said she was killed by Charles Wright, 33, Clio police chief. Then he allegedly turned the gun on himself.

New Nazi Sub Put Into Commission

KIEL, Germany, June 24 (AP)—Germany's latest submarine, the U-53, was put into commission today.

The ceremony was attended by the commander and part of the crew of the war-time U-53, which was the first belligerent submersible to enter the harbor of Newport, R. I., October 7, 1916.

The new U-53 has a displacement of 517 tons.

Woman Dying On Kin's Grave

SOUTHBRIDGE, June 24—Mrs. Elizabeth Shepard, 69, was near death today at Harrington Hospital, after being found unconscious on the rain-soaked grave of her daughter, Alice, in Oak Ridge Cemetery. An empty vial was at her side.

Authorities said Mrs. Shepard, widow of Arthur Shepard, had never recovered from the shock of the death of her daughter following a brief illness two years ago. The daughter, 40 at the time of her death, was a prominent resident.

John Nichols, cemetery caretaker, reported he had seen Mrs. Shepard kneeling in the rain, praying at her daughter's grave. Some time later another cemetery visitor saw the widow lying prostrate across the grave and summoned authorities, believing her dead.

Brother of Squalus Hero to Join Navy

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 24 (AP)—Robert Duval Maness, 18, brother of Lloyd B. Maness, hero of the Squalus submarine disaster, has applied for enlistment in the U. S. Navy. Young Maness was graduated from high school in May but waited until he was 18 to file application.

His brother was credited with slamming a door in the Squalus and saving 33 men from drowning.

SILVER FILIBUSTER LOOMING IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Assurances from Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, that the Treasury would continue its price of 64.64 cents an ounce for domestically-mined silver failed today to placate western senators who want higher prices.

They indicated they would continue prolonged speech-making on the Senate floor, which administration leaders say is a filibuster designed to delay new monetary legislation until their demands concerning silver are granted.

Both factions kept an eye on the calendar. Next Friday midnight the government's fiscal year ends and a number of bills, including the monetary and relief measures, must be enacted before then or important administration powers will end.

Barkley's statement that the treasury would continue the present silver price for six months after June 30 was coolly received by Senator Pittman (D.) of Nevada.

Referring to a previous reduction in the price, Pittman said:

"There is no satisfaction in the perpetuation of the unemployment of 318,000 persons in seven western states caused by the reduction in the price of silver from 77.5 cents to 64.64 cents an ounce.

"I intend to make no more appeals to the executive branch of the government. I intend to trust to the justice and intelligence of the Congres. I am satisfied Congress will be just."

The Senate talkfest is directed at legislation continuing for two years the administration's emergency monetary powers.

Scheduled to expire June 30, the existing authority permits the administration to devalue the dollar further, to maintain the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and to buy domestically-mined silver at prices above the world market.

Efforts were made in the Senate cloakrooms to effect a coalition of the sliver-states group and another seeking to wipe out Mr. Roosevelt's authority to devalue the dollar further.

Leaders in the two blocs sought an agreement by which both would vote for a compromise silver price of between 75 and 80 cents and for elimination of the devaluation authority.

See Early U.S. Approval of Rubber Pact

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Administration leaders predicted today that Congress would lose little time in approving a history-making agreement between the United States and Great Britain to exchange such strategic war materials as cotton and rubber.

The agreement, signed in London yesterday, provides for the exchange of 600,000 bales of surplus American cotton for about 175,000,000 pounds of British rubber.

Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who negotiated the trade, said in London that the same sort of deal was under way between the United States and the Netherlands governments. He reported also that Britain was still considering a proposed exchange of tin for United State. wheat, but acknowledged that this suggestion had encountered many complications.

The ambassador estimated that the agreement just reached would enable this country to get rid of $30,000,000 worth of surplus cotton and receive rubber which otherwise would cost the United States $36,000,000.

The trade, said to be the first of its kind in history, won widespread approval on Capitol Hill, where legislation must be enacted to complete this country's end of the bargain.

The cotton and rubber will be held in storage by both governments "against the contingency of a major war emergency." The two governments agreed, as a protection to markets of producers of the two commodities, not to dispose of the reserves for seven years except in war emergencies. Afterwards they must consult each other if they decide to dispose of their stock, and must take all possible steps to avoid market disturbances.

INSURANCE VETERAN DIES

MOUNTAIN LAKES, N. J., June 24 (AP)—Simon D. Jones, 76, author of books on insurance and for 30 years in charge of the New York office of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, died today.

Narrow Price Changes Confuse Market Trend

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Fractional price changes either way put the stock market behind a question mark today.

Dealings were sluggish from the start and volume failed to pick up much in the final hour.

Moderately helpful was the lessening of Far Eastern tension with the Japanese permitting British ships entry to the Port of Swatow. Although the administration's loan program continued as a negative speculative factor, the business outlook was still viewed as the main trading prop.

Edging upward were U. S. Steel, Loft, Chrysler, Great Northern, Celanese, International Harvester, United Aircraft and U. S. Rubber.

Unchanged to down a triple were Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone, American Can, N. Y. Central, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda and Johns-Manville.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

A bolstering market influence was seen in the continued expansion of merchandising activities throughout the country.

Pleasing was the summary of the Federal Reserve System disclosing department store sales for the week ended June 17 were up 6 per cent over the comparable 1938 period. Gains were reported by 11 of the 12 reserve districts, the exception being Kansas City, where the aggregate was unchanged from a year ago.

The reserve board also pointed to a "considerably" increase in the level of industrial production during the first three weeks of June. The advance reflected principally larger output of steel and coal, which had previously exhibited receding trends.

Mail order and farm implement company shares came in for scrutiny as forecasts were heard of agricultural income in the third quarter topping the same months last year. While the return on crops will be smaller, it was said, higher federal payments will more than offset the reduction.

U. S. Trust Co.

"Better Tax Visibility"

"TAXES ARE PAID IN THE SWEAT OF EVERY MAN WHO LABORS."

THE AVERAGE WAGE-EARNER — the workingman—has a greater stake in the tax question in America than either the well-to-do business man or the unemployed.

For it is the worker—well-paid and low-paid—who is paying MOST TAXES in the last analysis.

A man making $15,000 a year, for instance, will pay approximately, about $1200 in Federal and State income taxes alone. That is about $25 a week.

He must make economies—that is human nature—to make up for that $25 a week, which he looks on as money taken from him without any tangible return.

When he cuts his spending he cuts down PRODUCTION and consequently SALES.

If you work in a store, a decrease in production and sales means the hazard of your job.

For the less money there is spent and the more money there is paid out in taxes, the nearer you, the worker—white collar or open shirt—tend to the LOWEST LEVEL OF WAGES, OR NO WAGES AT ALL.

HIDDEN TAXES are another form of government assessment that extract the tax in a seemingly painless manner from the average man because . . .

- on every loaf of bread there are no less than 49 different hidden taxes.
- he pays four cents on every gallon of gasoline.
- if he buys a package of cigarettes daily he pays $21.90 in hidden taxes yearly.
- if he buys a new suit of clothes, he absorbs 12 different hidden taxes.
- if he pays $400 a year in rent he pays $160 in hidden taxes.
- one-sixth of the electric light bills go to the tax collector.
- nearly 10 cents of every dollar paid for a railroad ticket goes for taxes.

LESS TAXES MEAN MORE JOBS — AND THE PEOPLE COULD KEEP FOR THEMSELVES MORE OF THE INCOME THEY PRODUCE. PURCHASING POWER WOULD ALSO BE INCREASED. BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY WOULD HAVE MORE MONEY FOR EXPANSION AND MORE MONEY TO RAISE WAGES OF PRESENT EMPLOYES.

While it is true that at periods the excess is in favor of private enterprise the accumulated totals since the depression low appear to favor public projects . . . Dispensing with the controversial angles in favor of trend considerations reveals a slow climb toward higher levels by both . . . One which will gain in significance as privately financed construction not only reasserts itself but climbs above the 1937 peak . . .

Savers, Insured Pay Heavy Price

Capital is on a starvation diet.

Whether or not the politician is prepared to shed tears over this fact, it is nevertheless a basic reality.

It is not a matter for the top bracket income recipients alone, but for every one with savings.

Savings banks are paying one-half the interest rate on deposits of the pre-depression period, and commercial banks are in many instances reluctant to accept time deposits.

The depths to which the changes have gone is revealed in the virtual disappearance of excess interest earnings by the great life insurance companies. This is of direct concern to most of the 64,000,000 policyholders.

In figuring its dividend scale this year, one important New York life insurance company gave no credit to policyholders whatsever for interest earned in excess of the statutory 3 per cent. The cash dividend paid, shrunken in amount, depended solely on the difference between actual expenses and the amount loaded on policies, on the one hand, and the superior mortality experience over the mortality table, on the other.

Thus the savers and the insured of the nation pay a heavy price for prevailing subnormal interest rates which enable the federal government to finance its huge deficit economically.

Citizen protest against tyranny by bureaucrats is yielding dividends. Up to now, the National Labor Relations Board has conducted elections to determine who is the proper collective bargaining agent only on the intitiative of the workers. Employers have been powerless to request an election.

The lack of equity in this situation has been loudly articulated in recent months, and sensing a clearcut formulation of public opinion the counsel for the board has announced that the board has decided to grant employers the right to petition for a collective bargaining election among their workers in certain cases.

It is distinctly in the interest of labor to make the National Labor Relations Act thoroughly equitable lest the pendulum of correction swing too far in the opposite direction.

Now is the time to perpetuate substantial advances through eliminating excesses and manifest injustices.

What Does Hitler Think?
Lou Gehrig's Star Descends!

Cut Rate Boat Trip for You
Charlie Gehringer's Love

By COLLIN CLINE

As war flames anew in the Far East, Great Britain and Japan locked in bitter controversy, millions look with inquiring eyes towards Berlin and Dictator Hitler.

What is this powerful militarist thinking as he sits alone in his mountain retreat?

Does he see an opportunity for new aggression and expansion?

Will the so-called democracies of Europe rise to stop him this time?

Will the people he rules with an iron hand rebel or move supinely to death and destruction?

These are the questions the world asks, and these are the questions the Boston Sunday Advertiser ANSWERS tomorrow.

The article, aptly titled "Can Hitler Survive?" is TRUTH and FACT. It is the real story the intelligent reading public of America seeks—and obtains.

Mme. Kai-Shek

Chas. Gehringer

THE WHOLE UNITED STATES regards Lou Gehrig with mingled sorrow and curiosity. Everywhere, one hears expressions of pity for this great baseball player, so tragically stricken with infantile paralysis.

That is why Father, Mother and Junior will surely read Dave Egan's exclusive Sunday Advertiser feature.

A close friend of Gehrig, Dave tells the dramatic happenings that preceded the retirement story which blazed so spectacularly on the front pages of the nation's newspapers this week.

HERE'S A GIFT, and we're delighted to reveal it. If you wish to board the S. S. Steel Pier and enjoy a truly wonderful cruise, you may do so and still save money.

All you need is a pair of scissors to clip the coupon which awaits Sunday Advertiser readers.

ANOTHER TEMPTING OFFER is the WHOZIT? contest with its substantial money and trophy awards.

Tomorrow, the Sunday Advertiser reprints all the WHOZIT? pictures of the past week to permit those who have delayed entering the competition to begin it immediately.

BASEBALL TALK suggests another Advertiser feature—the story about Charlie Gehringer and his true love, the Dodge motor car million heiress.

The ace Detroit Tigers player and his romance with the fair member of the "400" set receive deserved attention in the Green Magazine.

MAY YOHE'S OWN STORY, begun last week in the Green Magazine, continues tomorrow.

In tomorrow's chapter she gives her side of the romances that amazed and shocked the world a generation ago.

"MURDER MADNESS" is the Green Magazine's true crime story. It concerns the stranger-than-fiction drama of the two Millen brothers and Abe Faber.

ANOTHER THRILLING ARTICLE is the vivid description of the horrors of Japanese warfare in China.

The author is Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the generalissimo of the Chinese forces.

OTHER EXCELLENT FEATURES in the Green Magazine include: The story behind the song, "The Lady's in Love with You;" "A Tragedy of High Society" by the celebrated Cholly Knickerbocker, and columns by Walter Winchell, George Holland and Mark Hellinger.

TODAY'S COLLEGE GIRL and the difficulties she encounters when she seeks a job worthy of her talents and education combine to make an important and timely feature in the Smart Set Magazine.

Here is a young woman intelligent, qualified and eager to work. Yet the doors of business and industry are slammed in her face. She wonders WHY!

A WHOLE SUNDAY'S READING may be found in THE AMERICAN WEEKLY, world's biggest magazine.

The front cover, titled "As the Pharaohs Saw Things," reproduces remarkable printings from the tombs of ancient Egypt. Handsomely colored, it pictures the land of the nile as it appeared in the time of the rulers who built the great monuments that endures to this day.

Two full pages describe the exotic habits, startling costumes and unique escapades of eccentric people who made Paris the world's most picturesque city.

MOST of the [illegible] and guests of today's and tomorrow's weddings [illegible] Harvard-Yale game by radio . . . for refreshments and wedding gifts [illegible] presented them [illegible] by the general exodus of Boston society to New London yesterday . . .

Perhaps you've noticed a bride who chose her lily after the dress for her wedding and so postponed the dreadful day morning of the ceremony . . . her today's brides won't have had the whole hearted support of their mountains and their hearts went all last evening according to schedule . . .

Polly Klotz and Arthur W Rice, who are being married in Waban this afternoon, wound up a perfect whirl of pre-wedding parties at a dinner dance given for them last evening by the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr and Mrs. Kennard Woodworth, at the Dedham Country and Polo Club . . .

Anyone who reveals the honeymoon plans of the couple will have to pay for the trip, they said, so that part of our story remains a secret! . . . But at any rate we do know that the attractive Polly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klotz of Waban, is wearing a white marquisette dress and veil trimmed with old family lace, for the ceremony in the Union Church, Waban, and the reception is at The Country Club . . . She is carrying white gardenias and lilies of the valley . . .

Beth Moir, the maid of honor, is wearing lusty pink marquisette with a twisted turban of the same fabric, and her flowers are lavender gladioli . . . Hydrangea blue is the color scheme chosen for the six bridesmaids who include two sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Kennard Woodworth and Mrs. T Wentworth Crocker both of Dedham, Mrs. Francis Jackson and Louise McKinney . . .

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Arthur W. Rice of Milton is in business in Cambridge, where the couple will live . . . George C Turbell, Jr. of Lincoln is his best man, and the usher group includes Roger Marvin Sanford Milton an outstanding star of recent Hasty Pudding shows, Edward L. Cutler, Jr., and Theodore Wetson . . .

The bride graduated this month from Wells College and the bridegroom attended Belmont Hill School . . .

Betsy Byron Weds This Evening

THERE IS A GREAT DEAL of similarity between the wedding of Betsy Byron to Arthur Ware Bromfield this evening, and that of her twin sister, Sally, who was married four years ago this June to James Barton Elliott of Baltimore . . . Whereas Sally was married in the afternoon, Betsy has chosen a candlelight ceremony in the evening, but almost every other detail will be similar, even to the old fashioned bouquets of white carnations which the bridesmaids will carry with their gowns of cherry pink mousseline de soie . . .

Mrs. Elliott will be Betsy's matron of honor . . . Her lovely gown is a full skirted model of white mousseline de soie with a cherry pink faille jacket, and she will wear white carnations in her hair and carry a small bouquet of the same flowers . . . The bride's younger sisters, Nancy and Marcia; her cousin Mark Byron; Mrs. George H. Waterman, Jr., Dora Bromfield and Judith Colt, complete the bridal attendants . . .

The couple will go to California to visit the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Gordon Bromfield of Santa Barbara, and will return by July 15 to make their home in Syracuse, N Y . . . The bridegroom graduated from Yale in 1937, and Betsy belongs to the Junior League and Vincent Club . . .

Fewer Socialites Summering Abroad

THE SUMMER social register for 1939, which will make its appearance in many Boston homes in a few days, has some interesting figures regarding summer residences abroad . . . The numbers have dropped to 447 families this year as compared with 758 in 1938 and 826 in 1937 . . .

Evidently most socialites who are accustomed to spending the summer in Europe are exploring the beauties of rural New England or the Rocky Mountains, for these two districts show a marked gain in summer residents . . .

There are only 40 less yachts listed this year than in 1938, which is fewer than might be expected considering that the hurricane took a large toll of pleasure craft in New England and Long Island

VIRGINIA McNEIL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McNeil of Chestnut Hill, and William Edward Rauth, son of Mrs. Charles Rauth of Edgewater Park, N. J., who are being married this afternoon at Leslie Lindsey Chapel, joined in a toast to their future happiness at a bridal dinner at the Sheraton Roof last evening.

Human Side of News -:- by EDWIN C. HILL

IN THE WILL of John D. Morgan of Summit, N. J. leaving $2,000,000 to Mr. Morgan's two daughters a condition of the bequest was that the trustees [illegible] an examination of the [illegible] capital investments.

[illegible] question arises [illegible] the heirs [illegible] sound investment [illegible] to what constitutes sound investment, and as to what sound principles may be relied upon will be read, one imagines, with wide interest, much wider than the immediate ripples of a news story.

It's their turn now, and if the women of America can parlay their estimated $210,000,000,000 up to something substantial, without playing any long shots, they're really good, and we short-enders in the Wall Street pari-mutuels will quit making jokes about the ways of women with checkbooks—a pretty much frayed-out jest in the journeyman jokesmith's union.

HERE'S a cockeyed finding of Wall Street financial experts which may interest the Morgan daughters as they hone up for their next [illegible]

To buy one newspaper a day [illegible] investment of exactly $500,000 in Federal government short-term discount bills at the prevailing rate. To buy one newspaper a day would require an investment of $150,000.

Assuming that all the basic living expenses of the daughters are provided for, outside of their $2,000,000, they'd have to cut some pretty sharp corners to crowd in an occasional session with their friends at the Rainbow Room, a new hair-do now and then and a few random bets at bridge.

This isn't just imaginary finance. Just the other day the treasury sold $511,441,000 worth of these bills, at 0.004 per cent yield!

Naturally, when you are passing an examination on "sound investments," you are talking, first off, about Federal government securities. There are, of course, many attractive private investments of much better yield, but the apparently, but not necessarily, infinite credit of the United States government has always been the Gibraltar of the thoroughly conservative investor.

DANCING IN GOTHAM'S RAINBOW ROOM
"They'd Have to Cut Some Pretty Sharp Corners"

BUT there have been fantastic goings on in the realm of "sound investment" since the late Mr. John D. Morgan discovered its principles and transmitted them, along with the fortune gained thereby, to his daughters. His will concludes as follows:

"I warn my beneficiaries, when they gain control of my estate, against speculation and unsound investments and urge upon them always to seek competent and disinterested advice from their banker and other competent persons."

Political Parade -:- by GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, June 24—If the invasion of Wisconsin by Secretary Wallace and Atty.-Gen. Murphy was smart strategy in behalf of the President and Senator Bob LaFollette, then the New Deal amateurs are full of brains, and the old-time practical politicians are cuckoo.

The old time practical pols by no means concede their cuckooness, and they regard the Badger State move as indicative of the waning political sagacity of those of the little group of serious thinkers around the White House.

Wallace and Murphy have played directly into the hands of Wisconsin Republicans.

Their strategy is to hook Roosevelt and the LaFollettes on the same barb.

YOUNG BOB LaFOLLETTE is coming up for renomination next year, and while his own sentiments are not known, some of the LaFollette leaders back home are toying with the idea of having the Senator—who for the past few years has been a Progressive—return to the Republican Party and run as a candidate of that party in the primaries.

SENATOR LaFOLLETTE
Capitol Hears He's Through

If this course should be followed, the Wisconsin Republicans are preparing to enter a slate under the Progressive designation, to prevent the Senator from copping a nomination in a field which bids fair to contain half a dozen aspirants or more.

Word comes back from Wisconsin to the Capitol corridors that Senator Bob is through. It is predicted that he will be licked worse than Governor Phil was last year.

One of the things that is going to defeat him, 'tis said, is Mr. Cordell Hull's free trade masquerading as reciprocity. It is becoming the big issue among the once prosperous dairy farmers of the State, who have been hit so hard by the commercial agreements that they can now do almost as well as a WPA worker with a pick and shovel.

But the President's foreign policy, tending steadily to involve the United States in the impending European family war, is alienating by the thousands people of Wisconsin who once valiantly supported the New Deal and stood by the President through thick and thin.

IN THIS situation, Wallace and Murphy make a couple of speeches in Wisconsin which have enabled the Republicans definitely to put the New Dealers and the LaFollette party in the same sack. That hook-up will cost Senator Bob thousands of votes next year, and if the reports reaching Washington are reliable, he can't afford to lose one.

Phil LaFollette was slaughtered in 1938, notwithstanding he had the support of the CIO and the A. F. of L.

LISTEN, WORLD!

Can Father Tolerate Mother as Boss?

By Elsie Robinson

THERE'S a quiet, undeclared war" going on between working men and women, these days, over who has first right to The Job . . . a sort of watchful waiting to see who will beat the Other Fellow to the punch.

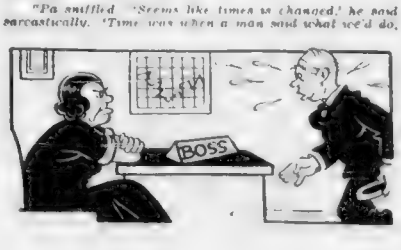
Actually, it began with the turn of the century, when Mom and the Girls, dispossessed by Big Business of their ancient domestic chores, began to look around and ask, "What next?"

Nobody took them very seriously, however, until after the war. Then the Boys returned to find the Girls firmly ensconced in their former jobs and daring anyone to blast them off. Since then the situation has been growing more ticklish by the minute, with Dad storming and sulking over his wounded pride . . . blaming Mom for the world-wide misery . . . quoting divine authority to support his rights as Head of the House

AS ALL THE WORLD knows by now, the Joads in "The Grapes of Wrath," sturdy, self-respecting, seventh-generation Americans, have been dispossessed of their "dust bowl" farm . . . have joined the westward march of the migrants

To Pa, that march is a nightmare. Try as he may, he cannot tear mind or heart from its lost acres. This vast newness is too much for him. . . . But to valiant Ma Joad, each new difficulty is a challenge. Her heart too, aches for the lost home, but she will not let herself look back. She mustn't. The Family needs her . . . she must go on. So Ma goes on dragging them with her, comforting them, shaming them, saving them by her ingenuity, refusing to admit the possibility of defeat. Her very ingenuity is the bitterest pill Pa has to face Time was when a man took the lead and a woman knew her place. But now

"Pa sniffled. 'Seems like times is changed,' he said sarcastically. 'Time was when a man said what we'd do,



Seems like it's pa's turn now. Seems like it's pa's turn to get out a stick.'

'Ma put the clean diapers in the dish out on a box. She smiled down at her work. 'You got your stick, Pa,' she said. 'Times when they's food an' a place to set, then maybe you can use your stick an' keep your skin whole. But you ain't a-doin' your job either a-thinkin' or a-us-in' it. It was ust why, you could use your stick, us women folks'd snuffle their nose an' creep-mouse around. But you jus' get you a stick now an' you ain't lickin' a woman; you're a-lickin', 'cause I got a stick all laid out too.'

MAN 'got a stick laid out too?" There is the most revolutionary fact man has ever had to face . . . and the most challenging discovery woman has ever made. How will they both take that discovery? CAN MAN ENDURE HIS WOUNDED PRIDE WITHOUT QUITTING? CAN WOMAN USE HER NEW-FOUND STRENGTH WITHOUT GROWING SHRILL AND HARD? Every family in America is facing those two questions today.

There's only one answer of course, when both pack sticks TEAMWORK. True partnership of the spirit. But how soon will we be mature enough for such partnership? I wonder

IRENE DUNNE and Fred MacMurray make a happy twosome in "Invitation to Happiness," which moves over to the Paramount and Fenway on Thursday.

Hollywood Paragraphs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—David Selznick had his chance to get out with his skin whole and make a profit on Gone With the Wind but he has refused. I hear from a reliable source that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offered him a million dollars profit over and above costs.

It is estimated there is $4,000,000 in the picture now, but having suffered through months and months David prefers to let nature take its course. After he bought GWTW and it became a best seller he was offered up to $3,000,000 for the novel, which he acquired for a mere $50,000.

The Margaret Mitchell book has been such an obsession with him that he'd rather part with his right arm. Underground reports are that he has a good picture and I hope it's true.

I've host Jane Withers feelings and I am just as sorry as I can be because she is one of my special pets. I said that her sleepless nights were over because she passed her arithmetic. Jane was very upset, even though she thinks arithmetic is her lowest subject. I'll confess to her right here that I had to have a special teacher to pass geometry. And I still think a problem in algebra today if I had to hang for it.

Her teacher, Gertrude Vizard says Jane is more than a year ahead of her board of education requirements; three months ahead of her class languages and literature and two years ahead in civics, history and geography. So I guess I did Jane wrong. Any way maybe this will set her right with grandma, who is visiting her.

WARNERS' 'THE MAN WHO DARED' PORTRAYS AMERICANISM

Film Star Hits Law-Breakers

(Special to the Boston Evening American)

HOLLYWOOD June 24—"Life is so good in the United States that we have become too complacent and self-satisfied."

That was the comment today of Charles Grapewin, film actor, on his new Warner Brothers picture, "The Man Who Dared," which is currently rousing applause of patriotic groups.

"Sometimes," continued Grapewin, "it requires a rude jolt to arouse us out of our complacence, but when that time comes every American is equal to the occasion."

Grapewin in the picture plays "Grandpa" Ulysses Perkinfield, a wizened little old man and a veteran of Teddy Roosevelt's "Rough Riders" of the Spanish-American War.

While visiting his daughter Elizabeth Risdon and her husband Henry O'Neill, the family wrestle the slaying of an investigator about to go before the grand jury with evidence of corruption in the police department and city government.

Intent to terrorize the witnesses O'Neill is brutally beaten and his son, Dickie Jones, 14 kidnaped and threatened with death if the family testifies.

• • •

Crotchety and fearful for the boy's safety, the others refuse to tell what they know, but Grapewin, insisting that self must not be considered when American aim is at stake, performs heroically to frustrate the law-breaker.

"All the menace to our happiness and well-being does not come from foreign shores," said Grapewin. "We have insidious influences working within our confines, sometimes aided and promoted by unfriendly powers. They should be stamped out as one destroys a snake."

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

JIMMY BRADDOCK is only trying to fool himself when he says Tony Galento will win from Joe Louis in their 15-round world's heavyweight championship bout in New York on next Wednesday night. Certainly the public is not being fooled.

If Braddock were to permit himself to think of his world's title defense match against Louis in Chicago he wouldn't give Galento a chance to weather more than three rounds.

The Braddock who fought Louis was still a pretty fair fighter. He was also defending his world's championship which gave him an added incentive to win.

Braddock gambled with Louis, and tried to make it a two fisted fight. Jimmy came out of his corner throwing punches. He made his big play with his right hand, but ended up getting his ears pinned back.

Nobody can gamble with Louis in a punching duel for in addition to being a terrific hitter himself, the "Brown Bomber" is also a good boxer. He knows how to step away from enemy fire, and pick spots for his own blows.

Few heavyweights can hit with both hands like Louis. Braddock used to do his heavy belting with his right. He used his left to stab his opponent dizzy. Max Baer will agree Jimmy had a pretty nifty left hand the night he won the title from him.

Galento does his most effective socking with his left duke. He has a chance of tipping over his heavyweight by using it.

I shall always remember the night Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills of Washington, a New York Giant supporting cast of a Broadway show. Two other members of Barry's team—both had been beaten in the evening. When Wills entered the ring his manager impressed on him the importance of working and in this way save the precious life of the stable.

The two, dressed and inside of 30 seconds Harry Wills's brother was carrying him to his corner. He had quit in the face of Dempsey's left hook.

I don't believe Louis will be tagged by Galento, but it is a certainty the champion will not take any chances with the Newark tavern keeper's punch. Every fighter can be knocked out if hit hard enough on the right spot.

There was a time in Philadelphia when Wilfred Benitez of New York at the age of nineteen, light weight champion, got out of his corner to meet Bobby Dundee after the second round was over and was able to repeat the feat in numerous return bouts. It is said to prove that Dundee didn't have an iron jaw.

You may expect to see Louis keep his chin buried on his chest so that it won't be too much of a target for Galento's left hook.

Likes the Champ

You asked me, and so I'm telling you it will be Joe Louis over Tony Galento. Will be in the press box at Fenway Park on Saturday and Sunday telling readers of the Chicago American how the White Sox look against the Red Sox. Then for New York and the fight. Like a fireman, I like to hear the sound of the gong.

DUCK, JOE!

Galento To Forget Ring Rules

SUMMIT, N. J., June 24 (INS)—Tony Galento, tavern keeper and former beer salesman from Orange, N. J., who will meet Lou Nova in a 15-round heavyweight championship bout at the Polo Grounds, New York, July 1, promised tonight he would forget all the rules of boxing in his fight with the California pretty boy.

Galento, who recently knocked out Abe Feldman in Newark, N. J., in two rounds, was asked how he would fight Nova.

ROUGH FIGHT

"Galento will either throw or knock Louis out of the ring to start with, and until such time as one or the other is flattened will use every trick he knows to win this fight.

"He is going to let his punches fly with all he's got.

"Where they land is another matter, except we hope they will land where they will do the most good.

"In close he is going to be just as rough as he has been in any other fight, and, of course, Louis has the privilege of doing the same.

"As far as we are concerned we would like the boxing commission to throw out the rules—the whole book—and also keep the referee out of the ring."

RULES FLEXIBLE

He was told that Referee Arthur Donovan would not permit such tactics, and that the referee would be empowered to disqualify the fighter who violated the rules.

"And this one is going to be the same kind of a fight," said Jacobs. "We are out to win the title—not to put on a pink tea."

Galento, who has been training at Vogel and seems to relish cutting Lucky Lewis' forearm to pieces, is a favorite of Giants' boxing fans. If he inadvertently loads a right hook to the jaw, a left elbow to the teeth, and a shove to the eyeball.

2. [illegible] set of [illegible] can be submitted by any one person, but each [illegible] must color, and no family will be [illegible] to win [illegible] one prize.
3. Final standings [illegible] have the completed set of 24. DO NOT SEND IN INDIVIDUAL PICTURES.
4. This contest [illegible] to those residing in New England residents except employees [illegible] Hearst Newspaper Publishing Company and [illegible] Hearst [illegible] papers and members of their families or [illegible] agents.
5. Send your entry [illegible] or bring it to Baseball Whozit Contest Editor, Boston Evening American, 8 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass. P. O. Box 455. All entries must bear sufficient postage to be transferred.
6. All solutions must be accompanied by a letter of not more than 50 words on "Who Is My Favorite Ball Player on the Boston Teams, and Why." Letters will be considered only in the event of a tie in solving these pictures. Entries must be in the office of the editor or postmarked not later than midnight, TEN days after the last picture is printed.
7. A committee of judges appointed by the Boston Daily Record and Boston Evening American will select the winners in this contest. A contestant, by sending a set of solutions, indicates acceptance of these Rules and Conditions and agrees that the decision of the judges is final and further agrees that there can be no appeal from the judges' decisions. No entries can be returned. All entries become the property of the Boston Daily Record and Boston Evening American.
8. Awards will be paid to the persons sending in the nearest correctly solved complete set of pictures. Neither handwriting nor elaborateness will count. In the event of a tie between or among two or more contestants for any of the prizes, the prize or prizes next in order will be combined in a lump sum and then evenly distributed among those tying.
9. Contestants are not required to purchase these newspapers in order to complete. Copies of these newspapers on file in the public libraries may be consulted instead.

Nelson's Entry Helpful to M. G. A. | 118 Contestants Seek Links Title

By BILL GRIMES

About all the consolation that 80 per cent of the field in the 33d Massachusetts open championship will receive must come from the thrill of playing against Byron Nelson, the United States open champion.

However, there are 118 contestants in the field so the M. G. A. will finish in the "black". . . Freddie Wright [illegible] pass the Worcester Country Club exceptionally well. LOUISE RAYMOND, ELAINE FISCHEL IN TENNIS FINAL

Louise Raymond of Smith College and Elaine Fischel of University of California were to meet again today in the final round of the girls' national intercollegiate lawn tennis championship at Longwood Cricket Club.

Last year these two girls were finalists in the same tournament, and Miss Raymond was the winner. Both girls have showed great improvement this week over their 1938 form, and a stirring duel was anticipated.

Miss Raymond's home is in Scarsdale, N. Y., while Miss Fischel comes from Santa Monica, Calif.

Both girls were to figure in the doubles final later in the day. Miss Raymond was paired with Christine Waples, freshman from Bryn Mawr, whom she eliminated in the singles semifinals, and Miss Fischel was paired with her sister Ruth.

Both finals were put over from yesterday, when rain caused a halt to proceedings.

LOUISE RAYMOND, Smith, who defends intercollegiate net title against Elaine Fischel of California today at Longwood.

Roslindale Plays Caseys

Top feature carded for tonight will be at Dorchester Town Field when the two divisional leaders in the Boston Park League meet in one of four after-supper diamond dishes scheduled.

Lou Strecker will take his Roslindale Town Club to visit with Dick Casey's outfit.

At C. J. Lee Park in South Boston the Murphy Club of Brighton will probably face McDonough on the hill.

Bill Benson's St. Augustine's Club will make another visit to Fallon Field to play Holy Name. Tonight, Benson may repeat his choice, sending Thompson to the breech.

At Barry Field in Charlestown, the St. Catherine's outfit awaits the St. Alphonsus Club from Mission Hill.

Mile, 880 Top Met. Title Meet

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 24 (AP)—Five National outdoor track and field champions and seven other 1938 winners seek to defend their Metropolitan championships at Lincoln Park today in the annual Metropolitan A. A. U. title meet.

The outstanding performers will be taken to the national championships at Lincoln, Neb., July 3-4, with their expenses paid in whole or in part.

In addition there's Glenn Cunningham, who isn't eligible because he no longer is registered in this district.

A special three-quarter-mile handicap was added to the program to give the famous Kansan a tune-up race before the nationals.

The defending champions who went on to win national titles last year are Bob Rodenkirchen, 220 yards; Otto Kotraba, three-mile walk; Al Bolzis, discus throw; Henry Dreyer, hammer throw, and Lou Leips, 56-pound weight.

The other titleholders are Ben Johnson, 100 yards; Jim Herbert, 440; Leslie MacMitchell, mile; John Chamos, three-mile; Elno Peniti, six-mile; Eddie Gordon, high hurdles and broad jump, and Artie Byrnes, high jump.

The mile and half mile, the former with Archie San Romani seeking MacMitchell's title and the latter with Charlie Beetham, Howie Borck and Lou Burns expected to make it a three-way battle, are the outstanding races.

The New York A. C. with over 100 of the 186 entries, is expected to have another walk-over in the team race.

Norwood Bids For State Title

Scheduled today after postponement a week ago, the Norwood and Palmer high school teams will meet for the state interscholastic baseball championship at National League Field at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with a crowd of 5000 expected to watch the affray.

Up to date no changes have been made in the line-up of either of the teams.

The postponement has increased added interest of the schools' rooters with Norwood now chartering 28 buses to convey the fans to the Beehive. However, more than 1500 Palmerites will make the 90-mile trek from the western part of the state to root their team to victory.

The lineup:

NORWOOD	PALMER
Rader, c f	2b, Marcin
W. Donovan, 3b	ss, Majka
Krasauskas, 1b	p, 3b, Skowyra
Daunt, ss	c, Chmura

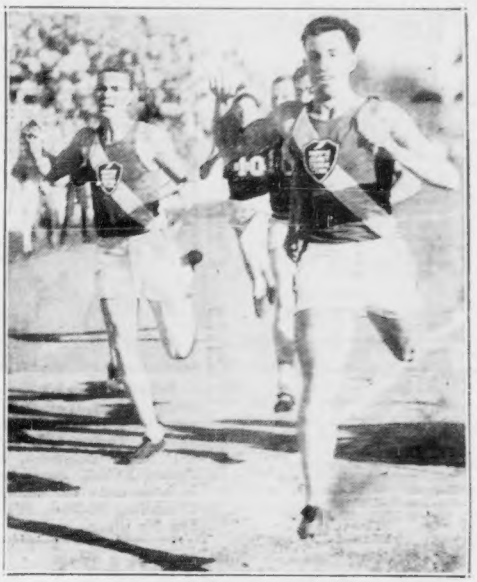
Princeton Outboard Team Out to Repeat

MONTAUK, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—Led by Jimmy Mullen of Richmond, Va., commodore of the Eastern Intercollegiate Outboard Association, Princeton's team of outboard motorboat racers seeks to win the national intercollegiate team title for the third straight year on Montauk Lake today and tomorrow. Herb Moeller is Mullen's teammate.

Facing these two is a field that includes holders of three national titles and a number of other outstanding drivers. Gar Wood, Jr., representing Tulsa University, is national champion in classes A and B while Arthur Wullschleger of Cornell is class C champion as well as intercollegiate high point man.



MILLER of Southern California wins 440 in annual meet between Pacific Coast Conference and Big Ten staged at Edwards Stadium, Berkeley, Cal. Coast boys won meet handily.

BOB FELLER HANGS UP ELEVENTH WIN

PHILADELPHIA, June 24 (INS)—Bobby Feller emerged with his 11th triumph of the year in a slugging duel that saw the Cleveland Indians steamroller the Athletics, 12 to 5.

The Indians were behind, 4 to 3, when they came through with a seven-run rally in the seventh inning to put the game on ice. Cleveland whacked 17 safeties off Beckman, Chubby Dean and Joyce, while the Mackmen made 10 hits off Feller.

Campbell, Trosky, Grimes and Feller collected three hits apiece to bolster the Cleveland offensive. Shortstop Webb, with two out of five, drove in three Indian runs.

Tigers Put on Rally To Whip Senators

WASHINGTON, June 24 (INS)—Detroit's Tigers smashed what was a tie ball game with a five-run splurge in the seventh inning and eventually whipped the Senators, 7 to 4. The Tigers got to Pitcher Leonard in this frame for a single, triple and four doubles to put the contest out of the reach of the Washington team.

McKain replaced Al Benton, Tiger starter, after the Senators tallied their fourth run of the contest in the eighth inning. Pete Appleton rushed to the relief of Leonard in the seventh inning excitement. Appleton was taken out for a pinch-hitter and Mastersen hurled the ninth.

Gehringer and Higgins, for Detroit, and Case, for Washington, made three hits apiece. Detroit collected 12 bingles and Washington 10.

Cubs Continue Fast Pace; Beat Phils, 4-3

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS)—Continuing their fast pace, the Cubs recorded their sixth straight victory, 4 to 3, at the expense of the Philadelphia Phillies in the first of a three-game set.

The Cubs didn't score the deciding run until the ninth and then took advantage of an error. Hack singled, stole second and came all the way home when Emmett Mueller kicked around Augie Galan's grounder.

Bill Lee, the winning hurler, held the Phillies to eight hits, while the Cubs got nine, including three by Hack, off Max Butcher.

Lohrman First Giant Hurler to Blank Enemy

CINCINNATI, June 24 (INS)—The New York Giants collected 16 hits off four Red pitchers to help Bill Lohrman become the first Giant hurler to hang up a shutout as the National League leaders were beaten, 7 to 0. Lohrman yielded two hits.

Zeke Bonura led the Giant attack with four singles in five trips to the plate. Mel Ott clouted his 11th home run of the season in the fifth inning. Every Giant except Alex Kampouris got at least one safety and the New Yorkers hit in every inning except the second.

It was Lohrman's fifth victory of the season, while Paul Deringer, reached for 12 hits in the six innings he worked, was charged with his third loss.

Old Ted Lyons Stars As Steady Pitcher

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP) — Somewhat overlooked in the shuffle is the most remarkable job of pitching being done in the big leagues this season—by the veteran Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox. He deserves a spot on the American League staff for the all-star game.

The old boy wonder from Baylor University has pitched and won seven complete games since he lost his first start of the season to the St. Louis Browns. Some of them have been "pretty sloppy," he says, but he won them, nevertheless.

Byers Re-elected

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 24 (AP)—Buckley M. Byers of Sewickley, Pa., coxswain of the defeated Yale varsity crew, was re-elected captain for the 1940 season at the crew banquet following the Harvard regatta.

Fires Perfect Score At Military Shoot

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 24 (AP)—Frank Jury of Newark fired a perfect score of 100 today to win the trophy offered by the Second Company, Governor's Foot Guards of Connecticut, at the Old Guard of New York annual shoot at the New Jersey National Guard camp here.

The Foot Guards, a New Haven (Conn.) team, captured two of the other three matches on the day's program, W. P. Pape, C. F. Lyman, William Brouler, J. J. Lacy and E. J. Doyle teamed to win the trophy offered by the Gate City Guard of Atlanta, Ga., a new match this year.

ELSIE ROBINSON writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems regularly in the Boston American.

Picard Star Entry In Anthracite Open

SCRANTON, Pa., June 24 (AP)—Back in the form that brought him the Metropolitan Open championship last month, slender Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., loomed today as the like'y winner of another major golf tourney—the 72-hole $5000 Anthracite open.

Spinning a record five-under-par 65 in the face of a stiff wind yesterday Picard starts his second round this afternoon with a lead of four strokes over his nearest competitor, Frank Moore, of Bretton Woods, N. H., and 13 strokes ahead of Byron Nelson, of Reading Pa., the national open champion.

Swifty SAYS:

'Now they're looking for a dog to beat the great Rural Rube. I'm a little peeved about that. After all, I'm the star performer, and the Rube is getting all the applause. Well, perhaps they know there's no use trying to beat Swifty. I'm just too good and they all know it.'

CHINKO TAUNTON TOP DOG

By THE RABBIT

TAUNTON DOG TRACK GRADED HANDICAPS FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 24

FIRST RACE—FUTURITY

(First Half Daily Double)

CLOSE UP—LADY ELSIE—CHIEF SWIFT ARROW

6	Close Up	5-1	43	E. Rhine
4	Lady Elsie	4-1	53	W. Lee Bryant
5	Ch'f Swift Arrow	4-1	74	Clyde Enos
1	Joe Judge	6-1	69	Art Wilson
3	Tipsy	8-1	46	Paul Roome
8	Silver Porthos	10-1	58	Pat Gavan
2	Ter Angi	10-1	69	Hubert Bryant
8	Temptaide	12-1	69	Tom Baird

SECOND RACE—FUTURITY

(Second Half Daily Double)

HELEN O—CUTLET MARK—TENSE

8	Helen O	3-1	51	Cedar Pt. Ken.
6	Cutlet Mark	4-1	58	G. H. Rogers
2	Tense	4-1	52	Tom Baird
1	Joe Di Mag	6-1	50	Oscar Dahlberg
3	Little Princess	8-1	53	Robert Bryant
7	KH Traffic	10-1	51½	F. L. Brunts
4	Axia	10-1	54	Jess Williams
5	March Past	12-1	63	Jack Adams

HELEN O gets the nod here and with any sort of luck should earn brackets. CUTLET MARK stopped in the stretch last out but should be close here. TENSE could take it all.

THIRD RACE—5-16 MILE

MAYMAR—LADY TAMARA—HITHER TO YON

4	Maymar	5-1	59	Art Wilson
8	Lady Tamara	4-1	49	T. H. Roberts
1	Hither To You	4-1	63	Fred Palermo
3	Eventu'l Laddie	6-1	72	M. J. Gavan
2	General Franco	8-1	69	George Dempson
6	Mutton Calling	10-1	70	Pat Conway
7	Kurb	10-1	62	Everett Harm's
5	Harbor Buddy	10-1	69	Ben Neal, Jr.

MAYMAR won so handily in a futurity to last out that one must give it the nod here. LADY TAMARA, if not hit, will be dangerous and HITHER TO YON rates some consideration.

FOURTH RACE—FUTURITY

MANDEVILLE—FROUD CHORD—READY APPLAUSE

7	Mandeville	2-1	61	Fred Palermo
3	Froud Chord	4-1	62	Jack Adams
4	R'eady Applause	4-1	45½	J. B. Hatze
8	Traffic Jam	6-1	67	Seekonk Kennel
2	Fame	8-1	73	Tom Baird
1	Ollar Carver	10-1	55	Tom Cook
5	Harvest Time	10-1	58	Clyde Enos
6	Bright Sock	12-1	62	G. H. Rogers

Both the top ones have wins to their credit but MANDEVILLE seems a trifle the best with any sort of breaking luck. READY APPLAUSE figures close up.

FIFTH RACE—5-16 MILE

SHAG TOWN—BETSY—PATSY RED

5	Shag Town	5-1	60	Pat Gavan
7	Betsy	4-1	52	Fred Palermo
3	Patsy Red	4-1	56	F. L. Brunts
4	Mary Clark	6-1	57	M. F. Dubiel
6	Ishit	8-1	65	Fred Street
1	New Issue	10-1	58	Clyde Enos
8	Mr. Ra	10-1	58	L. Kirkpatrick
2	Quests Kick	12-1	71	F. B. Stutz

SHAG TOWN is given the nod here off his last race with PATSY RED very far off in the calculations. PATSY RED could take it all.

SIXTH RACE—FUTURITY

IRISH GLEN—POLKA'S COURT—IOWA TAILSPIN

3	Irish Glen	3-1	55	Frank Lane
6	Polka's Court	4-1	51	Seekonk Kennel
2	Iowa Tailspin	4-1	64	George Lippold
5	Mutton Suet	6-1	68	M. F. Dubiel
1	O M	8-1	63	Ben Neal, Jr.
4	Red Card	10-1	66	Perbe Spencer
8	Dot Davis	10-1	59	Otto Wohland
6	Dusty Dan	12-1	58½	Oscar Dahlberg

IRISH GLEN rates the call here due to its great early foot. POLKA'S COURT is better than its last and IOWA TAILSPIN could take it all.

SEVENTH RACE—5-16 MILE

TREATY TRAFFIC—nob UP—MISTER TICKLER

4	Treaty Traffic	3-1	52	F. L. Brunts
8	Rob Roy	4-1	70	Frank Lane
2	Mister Tickler	4-1	60	M. J. Gavan
3	Mam'selt Cutlet	6-1	73	Pat Conway
5	Bon Jay	8-1	55½	Clyde Enos
7	Miss Hicks	10-1	58	John Highhouse
6	Irvin Andrew	10-1	60½	M. T. Dubiel
1	Sheila Go By	12-1	71	Fred Street

The top one here was crowded at the first turn last out and with clear sailing figures best here tonight. BOB UP moves up but should be close with MISTER TICKLER a serious threat.

EIGHTH RACE—FUTURITY

CHINKO—MAD MONEY—UP END

6	Chinko	5-1	73	Paul Roome
7	Mad Money	3-1	58	Ben Neal, Jr.
2	Up End	4-1	62½	Seekonk Kennel
3	Rural Crier	4-1	73½	M. C. Sparks
1	Cavalcade Car'a	6-1	65	C. A. Rhodes
8	Girls Cutlet	8-1	74	O & B Kennel
5	Muddler	10-1	71	K. Stephenson
4	June Breeze	12-1	63	Ted Lippold

Taunton fans saw a wonderful sprinter win his first out and CHINKO figures to come right back here. MAD MONEY, if it breaks slightly can make bother with UP END a money possibility at a price.

NINTH RACE—5-16 MILE

COMMANDING LADY—CAVALIER CARESS—MORDAUNT'S CHUM

5	Com'ding Lady	5-1	54	J. L. Ayotte
4	C'v'lier Caress	4-1	63	C. A. Rhodes
7	M'daunt's Chum	4-1	62	Pat Conway
3	Lucky Crier	6-1	63	O & B Kennel
1	Gliding Band	8-1	68	F. Palermo
6	Dodge Truck	10-1	66	O. Dahlberg
2	Legal Court	10-1	67	Everett Harmon
8	Court Critic	12-1	69	Art Wilson

COMMANDING LADY had a trifle of bad luck in her prior start but with any sort of clearance can figures best here. CAVALIER CARESS can make it close with MORDAUNT'S CHUM always dangerous.

TENTH RACE—5-16 MILE

LITTLE GIANT—QUICK LEAN—PLAYSIDE GOLDEN SIDE GOLDER

3	Little Giant	3-1	62	O & B Kennels
7	Quick Lean	4-1	51	G. Lippold, Jr.
1	Playside Goldie	4-1	55	L. Kirkpatrick
2	Coal Caress	6-1	56	C. A. Rhodes
5	Lions Cub	8-1	72	Fred Palermo
4	Tip Davis	10-1	57	Fred Street
8	Jimmie Jim	10-1	72	Jess Williams
6	Rick Quests	12-1	65	Otto Wohland

LITTLE GIANT has the best to make every post a winning one provided if [illegible] with PLAYSIDE GOLDIE in the money.

EDDIE POWERS, JR., son of the old Boston Tigers' boss, makes pals with Fawn Bachelor, speedy greyhound running at Revere.
